Miss Helen J. Smith

Dedication

To Superintendent Cooil

Who has so successfully led us through a year of great activity and business, we dedicate this,

THE 1931 PINE CONE

In Memoriam

JAMES RAWSON (1911-1931)

WE SHALL always hold in our memories this beloved fellow student of Cheney High School, who was graduated into another life. His enthusiasm and vivacity shall ever remain a pleasant, inspiring memory to us all.

Last Will and Testament

WE, THE Senior class of the high school of Cheney, Washington, United States of America, being undisputably of sound and disposing mind and memory and about to pass out of existence, do make, publish, and declare this to be our last will and testament.

Helen Smith leaves her long curls to Mr. Hodge. Won't he look good with

The rosy hue of Willard Kaiser's cheeks we pass to Erma Maurens hand-painted ones. and changing from his hair

Phyllis De Lano assigns her maidenly ways to Maxine Horn.

Evelyn Straughan wills her daily dozen records to Martin McDowell.

Cynthia Sweek wills her wonderful handwriting to Miss Fryer.

To Dick Hampton, Evelyn Kleweno bequeaths her intellectual ability.

Kenneth Corley wills his girlish blushes to Kenneth Harmon.

Roy Hansen leaves the job of patrolling Normal Avenue to Herman Straughan.

Robert Kirkpatrick leaves his afternoon naps to Jean Liedloff.

Wrella Sherar bequeaths her graceful walk and slender figure to Grace Mill.

Percy McLean wills his long stride to Harvey Selner.

Theresa Stone leaves to Florence the Ford to use after Senior parties.

Archie Cutting leaves his grades to his teachers to pass out to needy ones.

Bill Reuter leaves his collection of letters and rings to Mildred Conley.

Franc Miller bequeaths her belief in Santa Claus to a less fortunate girl than she.

John Rathbun wills his ability to sing to Ernest Reed.

Clarice Bonstrom leaves her curly locks to Erma Johnson.

Ruth Bechtel wills the position of senior class secretary to Jo Burley.

Judson Gaige leaves his flag-pole sitting ability to Norman Anderson.

Paul Fox leaves his deep voice to Norton Wolfe.

Orlen and Harold Griffith bequeath their interest in agriculture to Maxine Crockett and Dorothy Ashworth.

Art Harris leaves to Carl Webb the ability to bluff Miss Fryer.

Glen Johnson leaves his lengthy strides to Emmett Colyar.

Max Grier leaves his many school days in C.H.S. to Helen Hodge.

Irvin Long bequeaths the Mohs sisters to the highest bidder.

Louise Lesiak wills her delightful giggle to Arleen Taylor.

Edgar Rochelle leaves his inhuman actions to Harvey Burgett.

Elmer Easton leaves his ability to manage the stage and Seniors to Bill Parker.

Sara Worthington wills her tact with the teachers to Jack Davis.

Buford Allen bequeaths his straight blond hair to "Swede" Iverson.

Howard Holmquist leaves his Ford to Kenneth Bonstrom.

Alice Adair bequeaths her angelic actions to Charles Nelson.

Robert Chambers leaves his passion for study to Bill Coman.

Elmer Harris wills his banjo playing ability to Curtis Rudolf.

Elaine Humbert leaves the advice, "Love and be loved," to Wilma Adair.

And lastly we bequeath to Mr. Harmon all the papers, notes, wads of gum, and other such signs of habitation as have accumulated during our stay to dispose of as he sees fit.

We hereby appoint and constitute Ray Salt as executor of this our last will and testament.

Attorney-at-Large, ELMER EASTON

SENIOR CLASS

Senior Ambitions

Alice Adair, to go on the stage and be known as the "it" girl.
Buford Allen, to take up tap dancing.
Clarice Bonstrom, to be a farmer's wife.
To find the right man is Ruth Bechtel's ambition.
Kenneth Corley, to be a doctor in a cat and dog hospital.
Archie Cutting, to give up athletics and become a preacher.
Phyllis De Lano, to be the oldest spinster in the state.
Paul Fox, to do whatever Buford does.
Gloria Gressley, to sell raincoats in Arizona—someone told her the climate was very wet down there.
Harold Griffith, to punch a typewriter for Rockefeller.
Orlen Griffith, to run a dance hall for broken down canary birds.
Max Grier, to become a librarian so he can read more magazines and not get kicked out of the library.
Judson Gaige, to take the bathing beauty prize at Palm Beach.
Roy Hansen, to be a mule skinner in Missouri.
Howard Holmquist, to become a second Einstein.
Arthur Harris, to be a domestic science teacher at the U. of W. Art always did like the girls, anyway.
Elaine Humbert, to specialize on straight-haired blondes.
Glen Johnson's greatest ambition is Helen, and a large life insurance.
Evelyn Kleweno, to study the fine art of reducing.
Irvin Long, to be somebody's darling, probably Wrella's.
Franc Miller, to see "America First."
Willard Kaiser, to go to Germany and reinstate himself as true ruler.
Robert Kirkpatrick, to get married some day or get an "A" in English. Preferably the first.
Wrella Sherar, to dress like a man and hike across the U. S. A.
Edgar Rochelle, to shear lambs on Wall Street.
Cynthia Sweek, to sweep cobwebs off the sky.
Louise Lesiak, to start an anti-man league.
Sara Worthington, to lower the high tariff on peanuts.
Evelyn Straughan, to be an old maid school marm.
John Rathbun, to become a prize fighter and a circus strong man.
Clarence Reuter likes Wrigley products, so he plans to finance the Juicy Fruit business.
Helen Smith, to take Mr. Hodge's place in the history department.
Elmer Harris, to be a second Will Rogers.
Theresa Stone, to write a book, "Boys' Weaknesses."
Robert Chambers, to take vocal lessons and become a noted bass singer.
Elmer Easton, to take Dorothy along when he matriculates.
Percy McLean, to go to Congress. Mr. Dill told him he could if he had his heart set on it strong enough.

Into the West

Into the west with the setting sun,
Winged the avions, one by one;
Argonauts of the azure skies,
Leaping the sea for a golden prize—
Into the west.

But the prize was only half the lure
That urged the airmen, each so sure
His ship would reach the golden isles
Over the sea-swept ocean miles—
Into the west.

Glory there was for every one,
Winner or no in a task well done;
Charting the skies o'er the tossing main
Making safer that long air-lane—
Into the west.

Nine huge birds on the starting line,
Ready to brave those of the brine;
Then while the thousands cheered that day,
Eight rolled o'er it and four sped away—
Into the west.

Four fleet falcons with man-made power
Thundered a hundred miles an hour,
Bearing eight men and a woman fair
On through the miles of trackless air—
Into the west.

All through the night of hopes and fears,
Through racking hours that seemed like years,
Kinfolk, lovers, old friends, and new
Waited for word as on they flew—
Into the west.

"Boebel wins," broke the radio wave,
"Jensen second," the newsboys rave,
Theirs is the joy of the earned reward.
But what of the other souls that soared—
Into the west?

Frost and Pedlar—ah, where are they?
Scott and Knope—and the girl so gay
Who waved her 'kerchief in last goodbye
As her namesake man-bird thundered by—
Into the west.

"Erwin is going," flashes the word,
And off sails the great green Dallas bird,
Humming a cheery radio song,
Seeking its mates as it skims along—
Into the west.

"S. O. S.," crackles Erwin's wave,
Harrowed, awe-struck, helpless to save,
The world sits horrified—holds its breath,
And hears two brave souls plunge to death—
Into the west.

The days crawl by—no hopeful words
And wafted back of the lost Dole-birds,
Tell us, oh God of the Air and Sea
Where are the seven who soared so free—
Into the west?

Grimly the sea its secret keeps,
Locked forever within its deeps;
But now we know that seven great souls
Have flown to a landing beyond life's shoals—
Into the west.

Pedlar and Knope and Scott and Frost,
Intrepid Mildred, we know you're lost
To us who live on the dusty ground;
But—perhaps we envy the path you found—
Into the west.

—RUFORD ALLEN

Pep Clubs

THE boys' and girls' pep clubs, known as The Knight Hawks and Red Peppers, respectively, assisted by the yell leaders and pep band, are new organizations in the school this year. As the names indicate, they are to supply "pep" wherever and whenever it is needed. They have attended games and sponsored two dinners as preliminary attractions to play hours.

FOOTBALL

ALTHOUGH the football team of 1930 was not as successful as it might have been, Cheney high was well represented by a fine team of players. Their excellent sportsmanship placed Cheney as one of the outstanding teams of the county even if it was impossible to win the county championship.

The call for players was made a week preceding the opening of school in order to prepare for an early game with Rosalia. The response was encouraging as 20 husky pig-skin booters, including five letterman, turned out. Coach E. W. Durrwachter soon built up a team suitable to represent Cheney in the county conference games.

The Blackhawks played six games, tying three, losing two and winning one. The first game with Rosalia resulted in a tie which seemed to be an evil omen of the following encounters. The game with Davenport resulted in our first defeat, although the boys showed a good spirit in all parts of the game. Our possession of the tie jinx was proved by the next two games, both ending in scoreless ties. The deciding game was played with our old enemy, West Valley. The Eagles made three touchdowns in the first half, pushing their way through the Blackhawks gallant defense. However, the last half of the game proved to be our time to play. The ball was pushed within a few feet of our goal three times, the last time being stopped by the final whistle. The final game with Mead gave the Blackhawks a chance to defend their honor and end the season with a decisive victory.

Next year's team promises to be an excellent one, built up of several lettermen and other experienced players.

BASKETBALL

THE 1930-31 basketball team was not as successful as it might have been, but some very close and exciting games were played.

Twenty young hopefuls and two lettermen responded to the call for players by Coach Durrwachter. Although the shortage of experienced players darkened the prospects, a good team was soon picked from the squad.

The first game of the season with Medical Lake proved to be very close, ending in a win for the Blackhawks by a score of 8-6. In spite of this victorious beginning, our bad luck jinx again attached himself to the ball, for the Blackhawks won but six of the 19 scheduled games.

Perhaps the most exciting, as well as disappointing, game of the season was with our old rival, West Valley. The game was close and fast, but ended with the Blackhawks minus the two points needed to win.

With seven lettermen back next year, the prospects for a successful season are very bright.

— The Squad —

Forwards: Cutting, Reuter, Holmquist, Hicks.
Center: Rudolf.
Guards: Falk, Davis, Hair, Hampton.
Manager: Bill Coman.

Blackhawk Howls

The Sunday School lesson was about Simon Peter, and after the opening exercises of the class the teacher asked what Peter's other name was. A new little girl raised her hand in excitement and proudly answered, "Rabbit."

Mr.: "Here's a noted doctor who says that ill health always attacks one's weakest spot."

Mrs. (Sweetly): "You do have a lot of headaches, don't you dear?"

A little girl said to her mother: "Mama, if I grow up and get married, will I have a husband like father?"

"I don't know, dear. Very probably you will."

"And if I grow up and don't get married, will I be an old maid like Aunt Mary?"

"Perhaps," answered the mother.

The little girl thought it over for a moment.

"Mother," she said, "it's a tough world for us women, ain't it?"

Girls' Basketball

NINETEEN THIRTY-ONE marked the beginning of girls' athletics in Cheney High School. At the call of Miss Marsolais 23 girls turned out. After a few weeks of learning fundamentals, they were divided into "A" and "B" squads, and "A" squad went into training for interscholastic games. The first five contests were very disappointing as to scores, but the girls did not lose heart. They kept training and practicing, determined to win at least one game. They came out for the better with three victories to their credit. Seven girls won letters and stars: Maxine Horn, Ella Nauertz, Arleen Taylor, Ida Showalter, Erma Manfred, Doris Bardwell, and Mildred Conley, who was elected honorary captain. The following girls won letters only: Clarice Bonstrom, Evelyn Kleweno, Maxine Crockett, Helen Hodge, and Marcella Rolfe.

Tumbling Teams

THE tumbling teams are an outgrowth of the boys' and girls' physical education and have answered the demand for something "different" in the line of programs. They have appeared as a between-game attraction at basketball games, at lodges in Cheney and Spokane and are scheduled to take part in the May Day program. They are coached by E. W. Durrwachter and Doris E. Marsolais.

Boys: Bill Coman, Kenneth Harmon, Ray Salt, Orville Galbreath, Willard Kaiser, Robert Chambers, Bernard Iverson.

Girls: Erma Manfred, Doris Bardwell, Maxine Horn, Clarissa Hurt, Iris Eason, Maxine Crockett, Ella Nauertz, Frances McCall, Josephine Burley, Mildred Conley, June Harr.

BASEBALL

THE baseball team has begun the 1931 season with a series of victories, most of which are from conference rivals, which ought to place Cheney High School in line for the county championship game. Coach W. W. Pier-son has managed to impart to the members of the team some of his en-thusiasm for the game and has built up a smoothly working unit.
